

Wrong Spirit

Let's talk to you about the danger of seeking advice from the wrong spirit. In 1 Samuel 28, we see the story of King Saul seeking guidance from a medium, a practice that was strictly forbidden by God. Instead of turning to the Lord for wisdom and guidance, Saul sought the counsel of the wrong spirit, leading to his downfall.

Just like King Saul, many of us are guilty of seeking advice from the wrong sources. We turn to horoscopes, psychics, or even our own desires instead of seeking God's will for our lives. We listen to the voices of the world, rather than the voice of the Holy Spirit.

When we seek advice from the wrong spirit, we open ourselves up to deception, confusion, and ultimately, destruction. The enemy will use any opportunity to lead us astray and away from God's perfect plan for our lives. That is why it is crucial for us to discern the spirits and seek guidance only from the Lord.

In 1 John 4:1, we are reminded to test the spirits to see whether they are from God. We must be vigilant and discerning in our quest for wisdom and guidance. We must seek the counsel of the Holy Spirit, who will lead us in the paths of righteousness and truth.

Let us not be like King Saul, who sought advice from the wrong spirit and paid the ultimate price. Let us instead turn to God in prayer, seeking His will and His guidance in all things. Let us listen to the voice of the Holy Spirit, who will never lead us astray.

As we go about our week, let us remember to seek advice from the right spirit - the Holy Spirit. Let us be discerning in our choices and seek God's will above all else. May we be guided by His wisdom and His love, and may we always walk in the light of His truth.

Let us pray. Heavenly Father, we thank you for your guidance and wisdom. Help us to discern the spirits and seek your will above all else. Lead us in the paths of righteousness and truth, and protect us from the deception of the enemy. In Jesus' name, Amen.
